

ADVANCING THE MISSION OF CHRIST:

What Shall I Do, Lord?

“What shall I do, Lord?” is a question we answer in many different ways. Supported by the programs and offerings provided by the Diocese of Saginaw, individuals respond with some of the following life-giving examples.

“It was not you who chose me, but, I who chose you and appointed you to go and bear fruit that will remain, so that whatever you ask the Father in my name he may give you.”

John 15:16

Throughout the 40 years of the CSA-supported lay ministry program, lay ministers have and continue to spread the Gospel in ways ranging from developing food pantries to visiting and praying with inmates to serving as parish leaders and mentors. Lay ministers faithfully serve their parishes and greater communities in incredible ways after completing a four-year program of theology and spiritual formation which involves nearly 300 hours of training and retreat experiences. The lay ministry program directed by the Diocese of Saginaw prepares Catholics from all walks of life and backgrounds - business owners, attorneys, healthcare workers, executives, laborers, educators and others - to return to their parishes and communities commissioned to advance the mission of Christ. There are nearly 400 lay ministers directly serving nearly every parish in the diocese and dozens more candidates are in the formation program.

With research showing a growing number of young people leaving the Catholic faith, ministry to the youth of our diocese is of great importance. The Office of Youth Ministry coordinates regular opportunities for young people to come together and gather as a larger group so they know they are not alone.

Offerings such as Feed the Fire Masses, held at different churches throughout the year, bring together young people from multiple parish communities for Mass with Bishop Cistone, dinner, fellowship, formation and Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament.

The diocese also sponsors the annual Youth Encounter Service (Y.E.S.) immersion experience, which gathers teens from across the diocese for a week of service and outreach. These young people advance the mission of Christ by volunteering on projects in urban areas, while being educated on Catholic social teaching.

Funding through CSA also makes possible the coordination of pilgrimages to the annual March for Life in Washington, D.C., where hundreds of youth from our parishes stand up for life, the National Catholic Youth Conference and even World Youth Day.

Young men who were among the nearly 40 high school students who participated in Y.E.S. in the diocese last summer.

CSA also supports the one-day youth conference, My Faith, which draws nearly 1,000 young people from all corners of the diocese's 11 counties to encounter Jesus Christ through dynamic speakers, spirit-filled prayer, contemporary music, sacramental reconciliation, Eucharist, discussion, and much more.

These offerings and others help young people to take ownership of their faith.

199 people in 42 parishes have completed formal training for visiting the sick and homebound.

There are 20 permanent deacons serving in our diocese. Five men are in the permanent diaconate training program.

There are many individuals in our diocese who are unable to physically join their parish communities for the celebration of Mass and the sacraments. In direct response to a growing need for trained ministers to visit the sick and homebound, the diocese sponsors training sessions in pastoral care and grief recovery. To date, 199 people in 42 parishes have completed formal training for visiting the sick and homebound. Additionally, nearly 40 individuals are trained in grief recovery. Grief recovery training requires completion of a faith-based course offered by the diocese to learn how to provide support to others through the stages of grief. These individuals are now serving people in their own parish communities, and some are becoming facilitators so they are able to teach these needed skills to others.

Some lay ministers are joined by their director as they proudly show the number of years they have been sharing their ministry in their parishes.

More than 250 young people from the Diocese of Saginaw attended the national March for Life earlier this year.

Your CSA Gifts Help Support These Diocesan Ministries and Offerings

Your generous gifts to the Catholic Services Appeal (CSA) do so much for so many. The 2018 target for CSA is $3,693,000.

CSA funds approximately 50% of the ministries, services, and programs offered within the Diocese of Saginaw. A portion is used to fund a variety of domestic and international organizations, some of which had previously been "second collections" in parishes. The Finance Council for the Diocese sets each year's target and oversees the distribution of funds to ensure they are used to finance the ministries, services, and programs for which they are intended.

Dear Friends in Christ,

The theme of this year's Catholic Services Appeal, noted above, sounds a bit familiar to last year's CSA campaign "Advancing the Mission of Christ – Here I Am Lord." The similarity is more than coincidental. To truly answer our call to live as disciples in Christ, it is not enough to simply be present. We must take the next step to act. "What shall I do, Lord?"

The opportunities to "act" in the name of Jesus and the spirit of discipleship are countless. Among those opportunities are the many tangible activities in your own parish and throughout the Diocese of Saginaw. It is important to keep in mind that many of the diocesan programs, services and educational initiatives which lend assistance to parishes, organizations and individuals are supported, in part or in whole, by CSA funding.

Your gift to CSA provides an essential and necessary portion of revenue for these programs as well as the overall diocesan budget, always with the goal of advancing the mission of Christ among all those entrusted to our care. That mission very often goes beyond individual parishes to larger, diocesan events. One exciting example is the MYFaith experience held in August. This year will be our third MYFaith event. In each of the past two events, nearly 1,000 young people from around the diocese came together to grow in their Catholic faith through fellowship, guest speakers, break-out sessions, music and prayer.

Each year, I personally contribute to the CSA and ask you to join me in making your own pledge to this annual appeal. This brochure highlights a sampling of the programs and events supported by CSA. You may choose to make a pledge based on some calculation, for example one or two hours of pay per month or a percentage of your income; or you may decide on a set donation. Every pledge is important and greatly appreciated.

Thank you in advance for your generosity. With prayers and gratitude,

+ Bishop Cistone
