Pentecost Sunday

“The Advocate, the Holy Spirit whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all that I told you.” -- John 14:26

With all the things that vie for our attention in today’s society, it is important to have the reminders from the Holy Spirit of what God wants for us, not what we want for ourselves. Ask the Holy Spirit for guidance to help to guide your life, through your thoughts, words and actions.

Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity

“But when he comes, the Spirit of truth, he will guide you to all truth...” John 16:13

It is difficult to fully understand something that someone is telling you unless you truly listen. It can be tempting to put our own “spin” or narrative into what another is saying to us if we don’t really listen. That is true also with listening to God. We can only hear what God is calling us to do and who He is calling to be if we take time to silently listen to Him. He will guide you if you listen.

Feast of Corpus Christi

“They all ate and were satisfied. And when the leftover fragments were picked up, they filled twelve wicker baskets.” Luke 9:17

In the story of the loaves and fishes, Jesus instructs his apostles to give what they have. Miraculously, there is enough for everyone – and even much left over. The same is true with us. Jesus instructs us to give what we have – no matter how small. Those gifts to give to others are not just the tangible or financial. They include our time and our abilities. Your gifts will not be depleted, but they will grow in ways that you may not realize or understand.

Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

“For you were called for freedom, brothers and sisters. But do not use this freedom as an opportunity for the flesh; rather serve one another through love.” Galatians 5:13

God has given us all gifts that are uniquely ours. We have the freedom to use our gifts, but we are called to use those gifts in ways so that we can do God’s work on earth – not just for ourselves.
